

Network Mapping for International Students

Who do you know?

For each space on campus where there are international students, write down people you are connected to and the people who are connected to them. This creates a "network map" of the international student community and can help you identify people to partner with and invite to events.

